

Ryan Carbaugh: Coke. Oh, Pepsi's too sweet. It grits my teeth. I don't like it. Definitely Diet Coke. That's my go-to if I have to get something soda-wise.

Coffee. I'm a coffee guy. I drink at least a pot or two a day.

Puppies. I'm allergic to cats. I sneeze and have allergies. Definitely puppies.

Phone call. I like to talk to people. There's things that you can't portray in text that you can over the phone.

Weights if we have to. I'm not a big cardio guy.

Pancakes. I make the best pancakes on Sunday. Ask my children.

iPhone. I don't even know how to work an Android at all.

Pie. Apple pie, peach pie with the crust on top. Can't beat that.

Laundry. If it wasn't for folding, I wouldn't mind doing laundry, but that folding gets to me every time.

A good taco beats a good hamburger, so I have to go with tacos.

Truck, absolutely.

Amusement park. I don't like the beach at all. It's too hot, burns your feet, the sand gets everywhere.

Candy. I don't like the popcorn. It's kind of stale there.

TV. I read enough for professional life that I like to just relax and watch something.

Mountains, by far.

Countryside. I'm a farm boy.

Summer. I had enough winter in Cleveland and Erie to last me a lifetime.

Depends on how hot it is, but generally no fan. If it's hot, I'll take a fan any day of the week.

Pirates. I like boats.
